South-Carolina GAZETTE.

From THURSDAY October 16th, to THURSDAY October 23d, 1755.

LONDON, August 19.

WE are well aſſured, that the event of the important negociations in which his majeſty is moſt aſſiduouſly engaged, will reconcile every true Engliſhman to his having abroad ſo much longer than might otherwiſe be wiſhed.

This morning 111,600 lb. of gun-powder was ſhipped for New England.

Laſt Saturday, after poſt, the Greyhound man of war arrived in the Downs, with a French ſhip and a bright Dutchman outward bound.

Extract of a Letter from Gofport, Aug. 15.

"On Wedneſday ſailed from Spithead, commodore Frankland in his majeſty's ſhip Wincheſter, having with him the Warwick, Greenwich, and Seaford, bound, as ſuppoſed, for the Leward Iſlands."

London, Auguſt 20. We hear, that admiral Smith having examined the 2 ſhips brought into the Downs by the Greyhound man of war, acquainted the commanders that they might proceed on their voyages.

There are no leſs than 24 ſhips belonging to the merchants, and 12 colliers, taken into the ſervice of the government, to be fitted up as ſhips of war, which will carry 20 guns each, ſix pounders, and 120 men. They are taken up at 6s. 6d. per ton per month.

Private letters by yeſterday's Dutch mail, adviſe, that a plot for blowing up the powder magazine in the important fortreſs of Luxemburgh hath been ſeaſonably diſcovered.

London, Auguſt 21. A new convention hath been concluded with the landgrave of Heſſe Caſſel, by virtue of which that prince will add 4 regiments of 1000 men each, to the body of 8000 men which Great-Britain hath taken into her pay.

It is reported, that the king of Spain will not enter into any alliance with the French king, in a new war againſt England, notwithſtanding the ſtrong efforts made by the French court. And, to confirm it,

We are informed from good authority, that the king of Spain has declared he is inflexible in his friendſhip with Great-Britain, and deſirous of maintaining peace with all Europe.

London, Auguſt 22. It is now very confidently affirmed, that, notwithſtanding the repeated reports to the contrary, there are no ſhips building, at the expence of France, in any of the ports of Sweden, tho' it is acknowledged, that, in caſe of neceſſity, they might poſſibly purchaſe, at a high rate, ſome Swediſh men of war.

London, Auguſt 23. By ſome letters received yeſterday, we are informed, that admiral Hawke is at Cadiz, and that the French fleet is there alſo.

It is ſaid that admiral Hawke has inſtructions to watch the motions of the French fleet he is now up with at Cadiz, and upon their coming into the Ameſican ſeas, to give them battle.

We hear that 30 per cent. has been inſured at London, upon a ſhip with proviſions bound to Louiſbourg.

When the laſt meſſenger left Hanover, it was ſaid the king's departure was fixed for the 19th inſt. which was tueſday laſt.

We hear, that as ſoon as his majeſty comes home, admiral Smith with the ſhips under his command, and ſome tranſport-veſſels, will ſail for Gibraltar and Port Mahon.

His majeſty's ſervants belonging to the yachts have received orders from the board of green-cloth, to go on board to fall down the river on wedneſday for Helvoetſluys, to wait the arrival of his majeſty.

Admiral Knowles is ſoon expected home from the government of Jamaica; and, we hear, is intended to command a fleet in the Weſt Indies.

Some ſmall men of war are getting ready for the ſea, and are deſtined, it is ſaid, for the Straits.

The preſs for ſeamen continues ſomewhat briſk down the river; but they take none but prime hands, ſo that they cannot be very ſhort of them.

It is ſtrongly reported, that we ſhall ſhortly have another conſiderable ſquadron.

There are now 22 men of war at the different yards, fitting for the ſea with all expedition, and as ſoon as they are out of the docks, a greater number are ordered in.

It is ſaid, that war will be declared againſt France without delay. — This ſtep, it is the opinion of ſome very conſiderable perſonages, will, upon his majeſty's arrival, become unavoidably neceſſary, would we continue to exert that ſpirit, with which we have hitherto ſo gloriouſly exerted ourſelves. — Our merchantmen are now provided with proper convoys, and every preparation made to intercept the enemy's ſhipping, and give them a warm reception whatever we meet with them: But ſhould Europe be deſtined for a ſcene of inactivity, whilſt their Martinico and other ſhips are ſuffered to get ſecurely home; the approaching winter ſeaſon will ſoon put a ſtop to the proſecution of thoſe meaſures we have ſo heartily undertaken, and render ineffectual a great part of the expences the public have already been put to.

Yeſterday ſeveral pieces of cannon, and other warlike ſtores, were ſhipped from Tower-wharf for fort George in Scotland.

On thurſday night orders were ſent to the exciſe-office, to ſend expreſſes to all the officers dependent on them Northward, to ſtop and ſend under a guard to London, a perſon who landed at Harwich, and lay at Malden on ſunday night laſt; and alſo to ſeize his baggage, and all in company with him.

A captain of a man of war has been recalled from his command, for fighting with his friends inſtead of an enemy!

Paris, Auguſt 20. We ſhall probably ſoon have war with the Engliſh. A veſſel arrived at Rochelle, brings advice, that M. Salvert with 5 ſhips got into Louiſbourg, and there landed 2 battalions; and that count de la Mothe was arrived at Canada, and had landed 4 other battalions. We flatter ourſelves, that the towns of Nantz, St. Malo, Boulogne, Bourdeaux, and Rochelle, will fit out a ſufficient number of privateers to give a fatal blow to the Engliſh trade. The harbour of Dunkirk is reſtoring, and the king is reſolved to keep conſtantly 10 ſhips of the line and 15 or 20 frigates there, always ready to put to ſea on the ſhorteſt notice.

London, Auguſt 26. On ſunday and yeſterday a great number of meſſengers were diſpatched to the ſeveral ports, and alſo to Hanover.

Laſt night his royal highneſs the duke came to St. James's from Windſor, to be preſent at the council of the regency.

The ſame day moſt of the lords of the regency arrived in town upon the ſame buſineſs.

Two 20 gun ſhips will be launch'd in a few days from private yards in the river.

A veſſel compleatly fitted for a privateer, mounting 20 guns, now lays off Ratcliff.
